- You are doing a great job.

The way you use your computer should be forced on to all teachers!

- excellent teaching
- humorous
- I would prefer we used the advanced Feenstra textbook
- Your teaching of the material has overall been pretty good especially after last evaluation. As for the book, it is very american and with that I mean it has a lot of filler and not that much substance. It has not been that different from first years curriculum except now we get know what the models are called and apply some second year economic math to them. So for the future a more economic-theoretic book would probably be better.

- Overall, your lectures are interesting and inspiring. Your use of 'computer' is really innovative. Suggestions:

You really need to choose another book for the curriculum. Generally, I think the course should be a little more 'tough' without losing the 'touch of the real world' which is present at the time being.

It is a problem that we have nowhere to get the formalized model framework apart from your lecture notes.

It would be good to have some of your lecture notes before the lecture: Either just a summary of the most important mathematics and results. Or, which would be optimal, the full text of your lecture notes, so that we could add notes during the lectures - that is usually my way of remaining focused during a lecture.

Otherwise: Thank you for this semester!
